

US EXPORT CONTROLS ON UBIQUITI PRODUCTS

Ubiquiti Networks, Inc. (“Ubiquiti”) is committed to conducting its business with honesty and integrity, and in full compliance with the U.S. export control and trade and economic sanctions regulations. Compliance with these laws is critical to the Ubiquiti’s reputation and success.

The U.S. Government administers and enforces certain laws and regulations that cover the sale and shipment of Ubiquiti products to foreign countries. The key laws and regulations are:

- The Export Administration Regulations (“EAR”), administered by the Bureau of Industry and Security (“BIS”), apply to the sale, shipment and transfer of our goods and technology to foreign companies and foreign persons located both in the United States and abroad.
- The trade and economic sanctions regulations, administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”), restrict trade, investment, and financial transactions with certain countries, organizations, and individuals.

By selling, shipping, using or otherwise transferring Ubiquiti’s products you are agreeing to comply with all applicable export and reexport control laws and regulations, including the EAR and OFAC.

No Ubiquiti products can be sold, shipped or otherwise transferred to any country subject to U.S. embargoes or anti-terrorism controls, currently Cuba, Iran, North Korea, Sudan, Syria and the Crimea Region of the Ukraine. Ubiquiti products cannot be sold, shipped or otherwise transferred, directly by Ubiquiti or by you as one of our distributors or by one of your customers or resellers to one of these restricted destinations

Information on the Export Control Classification Number (“ECCN”) of Ubiquiti’s products can be found in the chart here. The ECCN determines the level of control of the item. Many of Ubiquiti’s products are classified as “ENC-Restricted” and cannot be transferred without a license to government end-users outside of the United States, Canada, Europe, Japan, and Australia. These products include:

AirFiber	Loco	PowerBeam

Under the Export Administration Regulations, a government end-user is defined as “any foreign central, regional or local government department, agency, or other entity performing governmental functions; including governmental research institutions, governmental corporations or business units, and international governmental organizations.” However, the term does not include: utilities (including telecommunications companies and Internet service providers); banks and financial institutions; transportation; broadcast or entertainment; educational organizations; civil health and medical organizations; retail or wholesale firms; and manufacturing or industrial entities.

No person or entity may sell, ship or otherwise transfer Ubiquiti products without a license to anyone on a U.S. Government list of prohibited persons, including but not limited to U.S. Treasury Department’s lists of Specially Designated and the BIS’s Denied Persons List, Entity List, or Unverified List. Further, Ubiquiti products may not be used for any chemical or biological weapons, and sensitive nuclear end-uses, or missiles to deliver them.

You are responsible for ensuring that any of your employees, contractors, affiliates and customers are clearly made aware of these regulations.

Failure to comply with U.S. export control and trade and economic sanctions laws and regulations can result in criminal sanctions, civil fines, debarment from government contracting, the loss of U.S. export privileges, and imprisonment. The reach of these laws and regulations covers U.S. persons as well as foreign persons, wherever located.
